

Meeting on the Post-2015 Development Agenda Consultation on Water: Water Resources Management and Wastewater Management & Water Quality

27-28 February 2013

Palais des Nations, Geneva, Switzerland, Room XII

The meeting on the Post-2015 Development Agenda Consultation on Water: Water Resources Management and Wastewater Management & Water Quality, held at the invitation of the Government of Switzerland, is part of the Thematic Consultation on Water, coordinated by UN-Water, UNICEF and UN-DESA.

The meeting will focus on two of the three streams of the Thematic Consultation on Water: Water Resources Management (WRM) and Wastewater Management & Water Quality (WWMWQ), facilitated by the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE) and UN-Habitat/AquaFed, respectively.

Representatives of governments, international organizations, civil society and business participating in the meeting will have a technical and political discussion on the two streams topics, review the outcome of the exchanges on the web platform of the Thematic Consultation on Water (see <http://www.worldwewant2015.org/water>), and debate the main issues related to water resources management, and wastewater management and water quality that should be taken into account in the post-2015 Development Agenda.

The meeting aims to prepare for the High level Meeting in The Hague which concludes the Thematic Consultation on Water. It will facilitate the development of a short document for each stream that reflects the discussions that have taken place both online and during this meeting, thereby providing a basis, both technically sound and politically strong, for the future discussions in the Open Working Group as well as an input for the High-level Panel of Eminent Persons on the Post-2015 Development Agenda.

The meeting will include panel discussions to reflect on the consultation process and frame the issues related to the two streams, including sub-themes. This will be followed by breakout groups to identify what are the key issues within WRM and WWMWQ in looking towards a Post-2015 Development Agenda. Having prioritized six of these issues, the second day of the meeting will focus on going more into depth on these issues and discuss possible objectives and actions that should be triggered in the Post-2015 Development Agenda, also looking at the linkages with the other themes in the "World We Want" consultation. A concluding plenary discussion will summarise key considerations that could possibly be included in the Post-2015 Development Agenda, to be considered as recommendations for the final outcome of the Water Resources Management and Wastewater Management & Water Quality streams.

THURSDAY, 28 FEBRUARY 2013

- 10:00 Going a step further on the key issues: what should be the objectives in a Post-2015 Development Agenda for Water Resources Management, and Wastewater Management and Water Quality

Six of the key issues that were identified in Day 1 will be selected as theme sessions for the morning of Day 2. Participants will divide in groups focusing each on one of the six key issues and discuss the following questions:
- What should be the future objectives to address the key water-related issue in a Post-2015 Development Agenda?
 - What actions should be taken to achieve these objectives? Can success be measured?
 - How are such objectives linked to other themes of the water consultation as well as other themes of the global thematic consultation?
- 10:15 Group discussions - Future objectives to address the key water-related issues in a Post-2015 Development Agenda, First Round
- 11:30 Group discussions - Future objectives to address the key water-related issues in a Post-2015 Development Agenda, Second Round

Participants will have the opportunity to participate in a discussion on a different key water-related issue
- 13:00 Lunch
- 15:00 Wrapping up: what are the findings of the Geneva consultation?

For each of the 6 water-related key issues, a rapporteur will give a 15-minute presentation on the results of the group discussion and the identified future objectives in a Post-2015 Development Agenda.

The presentations will be followed by questions and answers and a general debate. The Chair will summarize overall conclusions.
- 17:30 End of the meeting
