Task Team on Risk Management in the context of Agile development

The Task Team on Risk Management aims to:

- Help organisations implement the new Risk Management guidelines
- Develop a training program based on global best practices to help statistical organisations increase their experience in risk management.
- In collaboration with the UNECE community:
  - Identify common and cross-cutting risks faced by statistical organisations.
  - Determine which risks the community should address/prioritise.

The Framework includes 15 important statistical skills and describes beginner, intermediate and advanced skill levels. The Framework can be used to:

- Align training across all statistical processes with the GSBPM, and develop clear learning and career paths
- Provide staff with a greater understanding of the range of statistical skills, knowledge and expertise needed to work effectively throughout the end-to-end statistical production cycle
- Identify gaps in statistical knowledge within and across statistical organisations
- Provide valuable information when considering mobility within and across NSIs, and succession planning

Task Team on Communication

The Task Team on Communication aims to help modernisation groups to effectively communicate about their outputs and achievements.

- Develop communication strategies
- Design communication materials (e.g. brochures, articles, infographics, videos, and presentations)
- Identify audiences and tailor messages
- Run communication campaigns, for example on social media
- Improve internal communication within NSOs.

The results of all this work will be presented at the Workshop on the Modernisation of Official Statistics, 20-24 November 2017
