

Specific Wood Energy Information Requests from EPF
2006

The most important improvement of the wood energy data that we could think of immediately, would be to have country by country statistical information about the use of wood production by the following sectors:

1. pellet producers
2. energy sector (differentiate between use of wood pellets, wood from industrial sectors (sawmills, other wood processing industries), forest residues and post consumer recycled wood)
3. forest-based industries (primarily pulp & paper sector, wood-based panels producers, other wood processing industries, including furniture)
4. other industrial sectors (e.g. cement kilns)
5. household fuelwood (including pellet burning)

We look forward to the outcome of your meetings!

Hoping to have contributed to a good discussion during your meetings today and the next days .
