The protective Service of the Nature of the Civil Guard, Seprona, has put four complaints to the industry Vinibasa when detecting irregularities in the facilities during a visit of several technicians of the Benemérita, informed yesterday the Platform Against the Contamination of Almendralejo.

One of the formal complaints, explained the platform, was forwarded to the Hydrographic Confederation of the Guadiana for a supposed infraction to Waters Law. They sent to the Director General of Industrial Ordination to supposedly have infringed the Law of Protection of the Atmospheric Environment and other two ones to the Junta de Extremadura for presumed breaking of the law of Residues.

This last one is based in the enlargement and modification of the facilities for the storage of alcohol, substance considered extremely dangerous.

The platform has asked to administrations a copy of these reports to see if in the account of the facts can be deduced infractions gathered in the Penal Code.

This association assures that the town council has knowledge for a long time of these facts. The Platform has not only revealed the dangerousness that supposes this storage of alcohol inside the urban area, the municipal labourers have also proven it, after several inspections, indicated the association's president, Félix Lorenzo.

For that, request to the mayor, José María Ramírez Moran, that he applies the law to the aforementioned industry, since he has stopped fulfilling his obligation to keep watch to preserve in all the moment public health, exposing to the almendralejenses to a real danger when enabling the storage of alcohol, in the road of Seville, inside the urban area.
