Introduction to the Fireworks Industry

It is said that fireworks originated in Liuyang, Hunan, China, which its production history can be traced back to 1,400 years ago. In ancient China, people had the custom of burning and exploding the bamboos to celebrate New Year. Later, a person named Li Tian in Liuyang filled in the bamboo tubes with gunpowder, and while people ignited and exploded, they could get greater loudness, which resulted in the firecrackers inventions. " Baozhu(firecrackers) " means "bamboo exploded " in Chinese.

At present, the annual production of fireworks in the world is about 4 billion US dollars, of which more than 80 percent of it is manufactured in China. There are over 7000 fireworks factories in China and about 20 per cent of the products are exported to the rest of the world and 80 per cent of the products are for China's domestic market. And about 87% of China's export fireworks are sold to Western Europe and the United States.

Fireworks win the love of the people in all countries s for their glories, shapes and jubilation. People love displaying fireworks during the different festivals. Fireworks also bring much fun to the various large-scale activities. However, people certainly pay attention to the fireworks production, storage, transport and display because the main ingredient of these products are inflammable substances and the fireworks industry is labor-intensive and high-risk industries.

Fireworks bring joy and happiness to the people of the world and the existence of this industry is reasonable. What we should do is to standardize its management, improve the industry standards, strengthen self-discipline and promote the cooperation between the fireworks management organizations in different countries, which will help the fireworks industry become a healthy and prosperous one.
