Chapter XI

Amendments

Rule 41

Any of these rules of procedure may be amended in accordance with Rule 35. However, any proposed amendment shall require the approval of the Inland Transport Committee and the endorsement of the Executive Committee of ECE.

Annex

Rules concerning documents to be submitted to the Working Party on the Transport of Perishable Foodstuffs

Official documents

1. Documents for consideration under each agenda item of a session shall be transmitted as early as possible so that they reach the secretariat not less than 12 weeks before the opening of the session or, if they are transmitted simultaneously in English, French and Russian, not less than 6 weeks before.

2. They shall be transmitted to the secretariat by e-mail.

3. Documents, including reports of informal ad hoc groups, shall be as brief and concise as possible and not exceed fifteen pages, except in exceptional instances where long passages from regulations or recommendations are the subject of proposed draft amendments.

4. All documents containing proposed amendments to legal instruments shall comply with the standard presentation shown in the appendix to these rules, include a brief summary and, where necessary, a justification taking into account the following criteria:

Cost: What are the cost implications?

Feasibility: Which economic sector or public service is concerned by the proposed amendments?

What are the consequences in terms of the advantages and disadvantages?

Is a transitional period required?

Environmental impact: Will the proposed amendment have any environmental implications, for example in terms of reduced fuel consumption or increased insulating capacity?

Enforceability: Once implemented, can the amendments be observed or monitored?

This rule shall not apply to editing amendments or amendments proposed by an informal ad hoc group.

5. The secretariat may decide:

(a) To postpone until the next session documents which have not reached it twelve weeks before the opening of a session;

(b) Only to translate parts of documents more than fifteen pages long, so as not to delay their distribution, when they contain lengthy explanatory technical annexes or tables which it is not intended to include in the legal instrument;

(c) To return the document to the sender if the presentation does not conform to that of the appendix to these rules. In such cases the document may be reformulated in accordance with the presentation required in rule 4, provided that the revised version reaches the secretariat not less than ten weeks before the opening of the session;

If this is not the case, the document will nevertheless be distributed in its initial form.

Informal documents

6. Documents which do not reach the secretariat twelve weeks before the session may also be submitted for consideration at the session under the “INF” symbol (informal documents), provided:

(a) That they contain specific commentaries or additional information concerning a new document included in the provisional agenda and that it has not therefore been possible to submit them in time;

(b) That they are submitted for information purposes and normally require no decision from the Working Party;

(c) That they are intended to correct errors in existing texts;

(d) That they are intended to clarify the interpretation of existing texts; or

(e) That they contain the report of an informal working group mentioned in the provisional agenda.

7. These informal documents must be sent to the secretariat by e-mail, allowing sufficient time to post them on the ECE website. As a rule, save in exceptional circumstances, the secretariat shall neither reproduce nor distribute paper copies of these informal documents.

8. The secretariat shall assign an “INF” symbol to informal documents which shall be transmitted to the author of the document who may send advance copies to other delegations. The author of an informal document shall indicate clearly the title of his communication, the official document to which it refers, where relevant, and the agenda item under which it should be considered.

9. Other documents may be distributed to delegations during the session, for example, informal documents unrelated to an agenda item, advance copies of future proposals, etc. These documents are reproduced and distributed by their author and not by the secretariat. They shall not be considered during the session, unless the Working Party decides otherwise.
