

International Conference on UN/CEFACT e-Business Standards and UN/LOCODE

Jiajun SHEN
Database Administrator

Jiajun Shen is a web application developer at International Maritime Organization. He is one of the developers for Global Integrated Shipping Information System and has been involved in design and development of the system since day one.

He has also been developing SharePoint and other ASP.NET web applications, including SOAP and RESTful web services, for the organization and its member States. He is interested in deep learning, IoT, blockchain, and their applications in maritime sector and beyond.