The Committee on Environmental Policy will be invited to consider the document at its nineteenth session for approval.

I. Introduction

1. The Environment subprogramme of the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (ECE) has four overarching expected accomplishments in the strategic framework for 2014–2015 (A/67/6 (Prog. 17)). It will report on their implementation to the General Assembly of the United Nations.

2. The activities in the Environment subprogramme for the biennium 2014–2015 are grouped into clusters of activities. It will report on their implementation to the Committee on Environmental Policy and to the ECE Executive Committee.

3. The table below presents expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement for the biennium 2014–2015 for each of the clusters grouping the subprogramme's activities. The left column contains the four overarching expected accomplishment as included in the strategic framework for 2014–2015. The middle column contains the clusters of activities. The right column presents the expected accomplishments and indicators of achievement, as well as performance measures for each of the clusters. The table is structured in such a way as to show the correlation between the ECE strategic framework and the cluster framework used for subprogramme biennial evaluation for 2014–2015.

^a The amendments to the Water Convention opening it to accession by all United Nations Member States came into force in February 2013 and are expected to become effective operationally at the end of 2013, once all Parties that were Parties to the Convention when the amendments were adopted have ratified the amendments.

^b This cluster is expected to be discontinued from the Environment subprogramme in the light of decision taken by the Rio+20 Conference to replace CSD by a high-level political forum.
