Environment for Europe (EfE): History

- EfE process launched in 1991
- Has been supporting countries' efforts to advance in environmental governance
- Unique partnership of:
  - Member States within the ECE region
  - Organizations of the United Nations system represented in the region
  - Other intergovernmental organizations and bodies
  - Regional Environmental Centres
  - Non-governmental organizations
  - The private sector
  - Other major groups
- ECE has been closely associated with the EfE process since its inception and serves as its secretariat

EfE: the Process

- The process and its ministerial conferences provide an effective high-level platform for stakeholders
- At the same time, the process focuses on supporting the countries of Eastern and South-Eastern Europe, the Caucasus and Central Asia in their efforts to raise environmental standards and comply with international commitments
- The process continues to provide the framework for the development of:
  - governance policies and initiatives
  - legal instruments and policies
  - practical actions and tools
- Member States in lead
- Conference organizing: Committee on Environmental Policy (since 2009)
- Secretariat: UNECE

25 years of EfE process: Outcomes

- The ECE Programme on Environmental Performance Reviews;
- The ECE programme on Environmental Monitoring and Assessment;
- The Pan-European Biological and Landscape Diversity Strategy;

Espoo/SEA in Background document

Information document “Mapping of the Environment subprogramme processes and activities that support countries in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals”

(ECE/BATUMI.CONF/2016/INF/1);

(<http://www.unece.org/fileadmin/DAM/env/documents/2016/ece/ece.batumi.conf.2016.inf.1.e.pdf>)

- “The ECE Convention on Environmental Impact Assessment in a Transboundary Context (Espoo Convention) and, in particular, its Protocol on Strategic Environmental Assessment (Protocol on SEA) provide a framework for the comprehensive integration of environmental and health concerns into a wide range of policies and legislation, programmes, plans and development activities in all economic sectors, thus helping countries to ensure the alignment of development with the SDGs.
- As the secretariat to these treaties, ECE will assist countries in their efforts to accomplish sustainable development by provision of technical assistance and capacity development, including:
  - (a) Facilitation of legal reforms;
  - (b) Pilot projects;
  - (c) National and local training-of-trainers courses aimed at strengthening institutional and human capacities among Government officials and other experts;
  - (d) Organization of subregional and national experience-sharing and awarenessraising events;
  - (e) Development of recommendations and guidance materials on the basis of good practices identified by Parties and other stakeholders. “

The Convention and the Protocol are mentioned as a cross-cutting instruments, and also across a number of SDGs

Batumi ministerial declaration

- “8. We appreciate progress achieved under the ECE multilateral environmental agreements and recognize the need to strengthen the participation of civil society and the private sector in their implementation. We invite countries to ratify, implement and provide adequate resources for the relevant multilateral environmental agreements, inter alia, the Air Convention and its three most recent protocols. We recognize the opportunities provided by multilateral environmental agreements to implement Agenda 2030.”

Chair's summary

II. The environment dimension of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development — moving forward in the pan-European region

A. Multilateral environmental agreements, mechanisms, policies and institutions supporting the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development

- 11. [...] The ECE Convention on Environmental Impact Assessment in a Transboundary Context (Espoo Convention) and its Protocol on Strategic Environmental Assessment enabled the integration of environmental considerations in sectoral policies and projects. The Espoo Convention, the ECE Convention on the Protection and Use of Transboundary Watercourses and International Lakes (Water Convention) and the ECE Convention on the Transboundary Effects of Industrial Accidents were seen as important for promoting transboundary cooperation in the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals. [...] Concerted action between the Conventions, seeking substantive and institutional synergies at both the international and national levels, would improve the effectiveness and efficiency of those instruments.

IV. Greening the economy in the pan-European region

- 34. ... Regular review and long-term analysis of the environmental and social impacts of policymaking and decision-making, as well as holistic thinking, were necessary for a successful green economy transition
- 35. Delegates also emphasized the need for the effective integration of environmental considerations into legal and regulatory frameworks, institutional mechanisms that allowed for cross-sectoral coordination and the harmonization of conflicting interests of different stakeholders. Strategic environmental assessment and environmental impact assessment, based on the Espoo Convention and its Protocol, were helpful tools for that purpose.

Side events

- One high-level side event on SEA “The role of Strategic Environmental Assessment in greening the economy”: UNECE, the Dutch Commission on Environmental impact assessment, with participation of Ministers from Georgia, Moldova, the Netherlands, and the UNECE Executive Secretary
- Two side events organized under EaP Green by OECD with participation of UNECE:
  - “Greening Economies in Eastern Partnership Countries”;
  - “Implementing Green Growth in Eastern Europe, Caucasus and Central Asia”.
