

STUDY ON STANDING FOR INDIVIDUALS, THEIR GROUPS AND NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS BEFORE COURTS ON CASES IN ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS.

OUTLINE

A. Executive summary

1. Purpose and methodology of the research
2. Key issues and trends

B. General issues

C. Specific issues of standing for individuals, their groups and environmental NGOs

1. Challenging the refusal of access to environmental information
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO
 - c) Groups (if different from above)
2. Challenging the legality of decisions, acts or omissions with regard to the certain activities
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO
 - c) Groups (if different from above)
3. Challenging acts and omissions by private persons “which contravene provisions of its national law”
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO
 - c) Groups (if different from above)
4. Challenging acts and omissions by public authorities “which contravene provisions of its national law”
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO
 - c) Groups (if different from above)
5. Claim for pause/stop of the activity
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO
 - c) Groups (if different from above)
6. Actio popularis
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO
 - c) Groups (if different from above)
7. Claiming for damage
 - a) Individuals
 - b) ENGO

c) Groups (if different from above)

8. Practical issues (could be included separately here or removed and put in general issues as well as if some practical issue appear it can be included in specific paragraph)*

D. Conclusions