Improving data collection on population migration

2011

- The information system „ Statistical Population Register” (IS SPR) is being created

2019

- The formation of statistics on the internal migration of citizens of Kazakhstan is transferred from the filled-in paper statistics to the formation of the NRC from electronic data.

2020-2021

- Three ways:
- Formation of the social characteristics of a migrant based on integrated data from the database of government agencies.
- Remove questions about education, specialty, marital status, purpose, social category.
- Leave a survey about social characteristics: about education, specialty, marital status, purpose, social category.

Difficulties of formation based on integrated data from the database of government agencies.

Incomplete data on social characteristics of migrants

- Updating the database once per census, or gradually during migration

The problem of taking into account the characteristics of foreigners who departed for the first time

- Interview by characteristics separately from citizens.
