

DEFINITION & CLASSIFICATION

The UNECE standard applies to whole figs dried from ripe fruits of varieties (cultivars) grown from Ficus carica L., intended for direct consumption. It does not apply to dried figs for industrial processing.

Dried figs are classified into the following three classes: Extra Class, Class I and Class II.

The classification is determined in accordance with the defects allowed in the Standard's section "IV, Provisions concerning tolerances".

QUALITY DEFECTS

SUNSCALD

FERMENTED

SPLIT

DAMAGED BY PESTS

SH1

TORN

MOULD

FOREIGN MATTER

Slide 1

SH1 Stephen Hatem 14/05/2020

Question was raised: could we have a photo with mould on the outside, or an explanatory note about mould?

Stephen Hatem, 18/05/2020