

1. Progress of the England and Wales 2021 Census, including impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic

Cal Ghee, United Kingdom

The census for England and Wales went ahead, with Census Day of 21 March 2021. The main census collection period was in March and April, with a post-enumeration survey (the Census Coverage Survey, CCS) in May. This presentation will focus on early indications of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, what we had to adapt, and implications for additional post-collection activities.
