

SESSION 6

Information to and participation of the public

SESSION 6: DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. In your opinion, how important is equal access to information, participation and administrative and judicial procedures in the context of industrial accident prevention and preparedness?
2. Can you mention other international instruments relevant for hazardous activities that promote access to information, participation of the public or access to administrative or legal procedures?
3. What do you consider the biggest challenge in implementing equal access for public information, public participation and access to administrative and judicial procedures, in a transboundary setting?
4. What is needed to overcome these challenges and to better implement equal access to public information, public participation and administrative and judicial procedures?
5. According to your experience, what actions would you recommend to countries in order to improve their implementation of article 9?
6. How could the Secretariate assist in facilitating improved implementation of article 9?
7. How would you like to further strengthen equal and equivalent access to participation of the public for industrial accidents prevention, preparedness and response?
