5. Follow-up to the Ninth Environment for Europe Ministerial Conference and preparation of the mid-term review of the Conference's main outcomes

8. During and after the Ninth Environment for Europe Ministerial Conference (Nicosia, 5–7 October 2022) the secretariat received oral and written feedback from several delegations. The secretariat also conducted a brief survey to collect feedback from the participants on the preparation, organization and running of the Nicosia Conference. The results of the evaluation survey, with the lessons learned, are summarized in information paper No. 2.

9. The Nicosia Conference resulted in a number of outcomes related to its two main themes: greening the economy in the pan-European region: working towards sustainable infrastructure; and applying principles of circular economy to sustainable tourism. The Conference outcomes are included in the Ministerial Declaration (ECE/NICOSIA.CONF/2022/2/Add.1), the Co-Chair's Summary of the Conference (ECE/NICOSIA.CONF/2022/2/Add.3) and the Report of the Conference (ECE/NICOSIA.CONF/2022/2). The results of the segment on education for sustainable development are reflected in the Nicosia Ministerial Statement on Education for Sustainable Development and in the Co-Chairs' Summary of the Segment on Education for Sustainable development (ECE/NICOSIA.CONF/2022/2/Add.2 and Add.4, respectively).

10. The Committee will be invited to discuss possible ways to fulfil the Nicosia mandate on the regionwide approach to sustainable infrastructures, namely, as stated in the Ministerial Declaration:

We will explore the way forward for the pan-European region, including through innovation, nature-based solutions and engagement with the private sector. The future regionwide approach to sustainable infrastructure should provide the basis for common goals, targets and criteria for policymaking, financing, performance monitoring and replicability of practices that best suit domestic and transboundary needs.³

11. The intention expressed in the quote above has been reflected in the revised strategy of the Environment subprogramme in the draft proposed programme budget of ECE for 2024.

12. Member States and organizations that have made commitments under the Batumi Initiative on Green Economy may wish to brief the Committee on progress in their implementation during Batumi Initiative on Green Economy pre-coffee chats.

13. In their Declaration, ministers invited the Committee on Environmental Policy to convene a mid-term review in 2025 to assess progress in the implementation of the main outcomes of the Nicosia Conference.⁴ The mid-term review could be organized in a similar manner to the 2019 mid-term review⁵ of the Batumi Conference main outcomes (see ECE/CEP/2017/16). The Committee may wish to consider asking the Bureau, with the support of the secretariat, to prepare a document proposing the scope, format and modalities for organizing the mid-term review, which could be discussed by the Committee at its twenty-ninth session (Geneva, 6–8 November 2024).

6. Environmental monitoring, assessment and reporting

14. At its special session in October 2022, the Committee took note of the proposal made to convert the Joint Task Force into a standing body and decided to have an in-depth discussion based on detailed information provided by the secretariat at the next regular session of the Committee in November 2023.⁶

16. The Committee will be informed of the outcomes of the twenty-fifth session of the Working Group on Environmental Monitoring and Assessment (Geneva (hybrid), 2–3 May 2023). Furthermore, it will be informed of the decisions taken by the Joint Task Force on Environmental Statistics and Indicators at its nineteenth session (Geneva, 3–4 November 2022) and its twentieth session (Geneva, 16–17 October 2023).

7. Environmental performance reviews
