Twenty-eighth meeting

Geneva, 2–4 July 2024

Item 9 of the provisional agenda

Implementation of the work programme for 2022–2025, including financial matters

Report on contributions and expenditures in relation to the implementation of the Convention's work programme for 2022–2025***

Summary

The present report was prepared pursuant to the decision of the Meeting of the Parties to the Convention on Access to Information, Public Participation in Decision-making and Access to Justice in Environmental Matters at its seventh session (Geneva, 18–21 October 2021). It provides an overview of contributions and expenditures in relation to the implementation of the Convention's work programme for 2022–2025 for the reporting period 1 January 2023–30 April 2024.

I. General considerations

1. The present report provides an overview of the contributions and estimated and projected expenditures in relation to the implementation of the work programme for the Convention on Access to Information, Public Participation in Decision-making and Access to Justice in Environmental Matters (Aarhus Convention) for 2022–2025,<sup>1</sup> from 1 January 2023 to 30 April 2024 inclusive (the reporting period). During the reporting period, the secretariat continued to observe a high degree of caution in its allocation of resources, mainly owing to the fact that many contributions were not yet available at the beginning of the financial year, thus creating uncertainty as to the availability of sufficient funds. The secretariat made various efforts to encourage in-kind contributions and thereby reduce the impact on the trust fund. The secretariat will continue to pursue synergies with other United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (ECE) multilateral environmental agreements, United Nations specialized agencies and other partners in order to maintain a satisfactory number of activities and share implementation costs. Capacity-building of authorities and advisory support to Parties were provided by staff throughout the implementation of different work areas, including on technical assistance, promotion and the compliance mechanism.

2. For the sustainability of the work under the Convention, it is crucial to ensure staff funding on a long-term basis. The extension of contracts for staff funded from the Aarhus Convention trust fund depends on the availability and level of contributions received. Since the current financial scheme is based on voluntary contributions and provides no guidance on their amount, the level of contributions fluctuates, making the funding of extrabudgetary posts unpredictable and far from secure. As in previous years, the secretariat was therefore obliged to prioritize securing funds for staff costs, which need to be reserved at least one year in advance of the issuing of a staff contract. The secretariat was able to allocate sufficient funds for staff and for activities during the reporting period only owing to savings accumulated at the end of each preceding year.

3. It should be noted that the volume and complexity of the legal work of the Convention's Compliance Committee has significantly increased, including with regard to advisory support and capacity-building for Parties concerned, which requires the secretariat's greater engagement in terms of legal skills and time allocation. Furthermore, in order to ensure immediate support to the new work area on the rapid response mechanism, the required tasks were redistributed between and absorbed by the existing staff, mostly those supporting the compliance mechanism, while the recruitment of the remaining staff is ongoing.<sup>2</sup> Also, pursuant to paragraph 18 of decision VII/9 (ECE/MP.PP/2021/2/Add.1), adopted by the Meeting of the Parties at its seventh session (Geneva, 18–21 October 2021), the secretariat submitted a request to allocate regular budget resources to strengthen secretariat capacity for that purpose, which resulted in the adoption of General Assembly resolution 78/253 on special subjects relating to the proposed programme budget for 2024 (A/RES/78/253). It should be noted that the General Assembly decided to allocate only general temporary assistance funding for the rapid response mechanism on environmental defenders for 2024. This funding will be included in the annual ECE budget proposals to be submitted to the Fifth Committee and the General Assembly for consideration each year.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>3</sup> See General Assembly resolution 78/253 (sect. X, para. 3). This funding includes the following items (annual expenditures): P-3 Legal Affairs Officer; consultancy ($15,000) and travel of staff ($17,500).

4. To ensure the continuity of work and effective delivery on commitments, the secretariat regularly had to reconsider the distribution of tasks among its staff members to guarantee the timely delivery of work when there were competing priorities. Furthermore, the heavy workload and the continuous demand for the secretariat's input place a great strain on staff, in particular in the work area on the compliance mechanism, a new work area on the rapid response mechanism and the work areas on capacity-building and promotion of the Convention; the professional staff concerned consistently worked at more than 100 per cent and, in periods of peak workload, at considerably more than 100 per cent. Other interlinked areas of work where the secretariat lacks human resources are capacity-building and promotion. There is a real need to strengthen cooperation with other relevant organizations, multilateral environmental agreements and processes dealing with human rights and the environment, and to devote more effort to promoting the Convention among non-ECE countries and in other international forums (e.g., international forums dealing with climate change, chemicals or health and international financial institutions). There has been a substantial increase in demand from countries, multilateral environmental agreement secretariats and international organizations for advisory expert support from the secretariat on the above-mentioned issues. Usually, these requests are made on an urgent basis, for example, immediately before and often during the other multilateral environmental agreements' Meeting of the Parties sessions or Implementation/Compliance Committee meetings. Support by the secretariat is pursued through providing substantive inputs to numerous reviews and documents prepared under other forums, liaising with those forums, delivering presentations and training sessions at relevant meetings, and acting as a "help desk" to respond to the many requests from countries and organizations. Currently, due to a lack of capacity, the secretariat has to turn down the vast majority of requests. The heavy workload and the continuous demand for the secretariat's input place staff under great strain and lead to serious frustration among the countries and organizations concerned.

5. After considering the relevant elements presented in the report of the Secretary-General entitled Pattern of Conferences (A/78/96), the General Assembly did not establish a mandate or provide required guidance on rules of procedures, conditions of service for interpreters, security, authentication and universal access for the continuation of provision of online or hybrid meeting services. In the absence of such a mandate and legislative framework, hybrid and virtual meeting services are no longer being provided by the United Nations Office at Geneva effective 22 January 2024. Should services for virtual or hybrid meetings serviced by the United Nations Office at Geneva be requested in exceptional circumstances, these will be covered through extrabudgetary contributions, including costs for remote participation, and use of the authorized platforms. The secretariat therefore has to adjust its working methods and meeting organization to take into account these requirements.

II. Contributions

6. The "Adjusted contribution" columns in tables 1–2 are intended to offer a more realistic picture of the actual resources available for use in a given year. Contributions by Parties and signatories are often intended for use in a year other than the year in which the contribution was deposited and/or received. The adjusted contribution figure in a given year is derived from the actual contribution in that year, minus any part of that contribution that was intended for use in a different year, plus any contributions made in years other than the reference year but intended for use in the reference year. Owing to the lack of timely funding for any specific year, the secretariat is obliged to use the available funds, as necessary.

Please note that there is an ongoing liquidity crisis at the United Nations due to the lack of payment of regular contributions thereto by several Member States, which creates serious challenges for the use of United Nations regular budgetary resources. The liquidity crisis implied a freeze of recruitment on this post as well as consultancy- and travel-related expenditures. The secretariat is currently holding internal consultations regarding time frames related to receiving funds, establishing the above-mentioned post and initiating a recruitment process. Considering the growing need in the work area on the rapid response mechanism and the unstable situation with general temporary assistance funds, it is suggested that the current extrabudgetary post (P-3 Legal Affairs Officer) supporting the rapid response mechanism be maintained also in the new work programme for 2026–2029.

Amounts presented in all the tables below are rounded to whole numbers; amounts may also reflect changes based on exchange rate fluctuation between receipt of pledge and deposit of funds and possible bank charges. Table 3 contains information on pledges for the current 2022–2025 work programmes as of 30 April 2024.

A. Financial contributions and pledges

7. For convenience, a full overview of contributions for 2023 and 2024 for both the Convention and the Protocol current 2022–2025 work programmes is provided in, respectively, tables 1 and 2.

B. In-kind contributions

8. The following major in-kind contributions were made in the reporting period:<sup>4</sup>

(a) Support from the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe for the travel of non-governmental and governmental delegates and a number of representatives of Aarhus Centres to the meetings of subsidiary bodies under the Convention and the Protocol; as well as for relevant activities of the Aarhus Centres related to the Convention and the Protocol and partially for travel of the secretariat to the relevant events;

(b) Support from the United Nations Development Programme for the travel of members of the judiciary for the 2023 Judicial Colloquium and the fifteenth meeting of the Task Force on Access to Justice (Geneva, 3–5 April 2023) and partially for travel of the secretariat to the relevant events;

(c) Support from the German Agency for International Cooperation, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, the ECE Regular Programme of Technical Cooperation funds, and the United Nations Development Programme to the international round table “Aarhus Convention: Effective Public Participation for Good Governance, Healthy Environment and Sustainable Development” (Tashkent, 1–2 June 2023);

(d) Support from a large number of organizations to the missions of the Special Rapporteur on environmental defenders;<sup>5</sup>

(e) Support from the Ford Foundation to the Special Rapporteur on environmental defenders to strengthen the capacity of the Special Rapporteur’s mandate, build its visibility and profile, and expand its range of activities in the protection of human rights defenders at risk;<sup>6</sup>

(f) Support from Freedom House to the Special Rapporteur on environmental defenders to strengthen the capacity of the mandate, build its visibility and profile, and expand its range of activities in the protection of human rights defenders at risk;<sup>7</sup>

(g) Support from the European Centre for Not-for-profit Law to the Special Rapporteur on environmental defenders by providing direct support for the layout, the communication material and the proofreading by a professional translator of the Special Rapporteur’s Position Paper entitled “State repression of environmental protest and civil disobedience: A major threat to human rights and democracy”;

(h) Support to several missions of the secretariat, including from the Irish Environmental Network, to support the secretariat’s participation at an event to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the adoption of the Aarhus Convention and at various meetings between the Special Rapporteur on environmental defenders and senior government officials, environmental and human rights organizations and environmental defenders (Dublin, 28–29 September 2023).

<sup>4</sup> This is not an exhaustive list. In-kind contributions to support activities for the Protocol on Pollutant Release and Transfer Registers only will be included in the report to the Protocol’s Working Group of the Parties.

III. Estimated and projected expenditures

9. The estimated and projected expenditures for 2023 and 2024 shown in, respectively, tables 4 and 5, are limited to those intended to be covered by voluntary contributions made under the Convention's and the Protocol's schemes of financial arrangements through the trust fund. They do not include costs expected to be covered by the United Nations regular budget. Figures are rounded up and may change in accordance with United Nations administrative regulations. Reported estimated expenditures are those related to the implementation of the Aarhus Convention 2022–2025 work programme in 2023 and projected expenditures are those related to the implementation of the 2022–2025 work programme in 2024. Protocol-related expenses are reported to the bodies of the Protocol.
